

Pure Development Program

Questions & Answers

What is the cost of the program? $425.

What will the schedule be like? Players will skate twice a week on fairly consistent days and times for 12 weeks beginning the week of March 17 and ending June 20.

Will the players go to tournaments? No. The focus will be on individual skating & skill development.

How does this program differ from the Tournament Teams? The main difference is that there will be no tournaments. The format will be the same with clinics, practices, and 3v3 scrimmages. Players will receive the same quality development that all of our programs offer.

Will the players receive jerseys and socks? Yes.

How many players will be in each group? Not more than 30.

Who will the instructors be? The instructors will be members of our Buffalo Prospects staff—which is comprised of AAA, high school, college, and pro coaches.

How will be players be grouped? Players will be grouped by age, skill, and size. The vast majority of players will be in a group within one year of their birth year.

Why should I sign up today? We expect this program will fill to capacity. Be sure not to lose your spot.

Should I sign up if I am still trying to make the tournament team group? Absolutely. If you move up to the tournament group before or at the second evaluation, your fees and paperwork will just be transferred there.
